Parklawn Health Library System's Journal List

The Journal List is a semi-annual publication produced in October and April which contains approximately 1,500 serial titles held by the Parklawn Health Library (PHL) System. It includes journals, newsletters and electronic databases found at PHL and its two branches: the NCHS Staff Research Library and the AHRQ Information Resources Center.

The Journal List is comprised of two sections: 1) an alphabetic list and 2) a subject list. Arranged in strict alphabetical order by each word in the title, the alphabetic list includes the volumes and years for each title. The subject list is an arrangement of titles by subject categories. Both sections include locator symbols that indicate which library subscribes to the title. The locator symbols are:

IRC - AHRQ Information Resources Center

PHL - Parklawn Health Library

SRL - NCHS Staff Research Library

To locate a title both in this list and on the shelves, please observe the following guidelines: (1) any journal whose title has changed can be found under each title in the alphabetical list, (2) any journal whose title bears the name of a professional association can be found under the association's name, e.g. the Journal of the American Medical Association (JAMA) is filed under American Medical Association Journal, and 3) initialisms and acronyms are filed at the beginning of each alphabetic letter.

BINGE DRINKING AMONG COLLEGE STUDENTS

Binge drinking is defined as consuming five or more drinks in a row for males and four or more in a row for females. A national study conducted by the Harvard School of Public Health found that nearly half of all college students surveyed drank four or five drinks in one sitting within the previous 2 weeks. Students who live in fraternity or sorority houses are the heaviest drinkers with 86% of fraternity residents and 80% of sorority residents reporting binge drinking. SAMHSA is working to educate college students on the dangers of heavy alcohol consumption.

GERIATRIC DEPRESSION

Depression occurs frequently in the elderly and is associated with high levels of distress and disability. Even though recent studies confirm that antidepressant treatment of geriatric depression reduces disability and results in improved levels of functioning, there are many patients who fail to respond to standard pharmacological treatment. NIMH is currently funding research on the treatment of geriatric depression with selective serotonin reuptake inhibitors.

HEALTH CARE SURVEYS DESIGN AND ACCURACY

The accuracy of health care surveys is tied to design, ability to retrieve expected response rates, and control over sources of error. AHRQ is currently examining ways to improve the design of health care surveys.

HORMONE REPLACEMENT THERAPY

Hormone replacement therapy (HRT) is defined as treatment in which estrogen, and often progestin, is taken to relieve the symptoms caused by the low levels of hormones produced by the body. HRT is available in different forms: hormone pills, injections, an estrogen-filled patch, implants, and creams. Women who are treated with HRT may experience relief from the symptoms of low estrogen, including hot flushes, vaginal dryness, osteoporosis and cardiovascular disease. NCHS is collecting data on HRT in the National Health and Nutrition Examination Survey (NHANES).

TELEHEALTH

Telehealth is defined as the use of telecommunication technologies to deliver health services and exchange health information when distance separates the participants. The Office for the Advancement of Telehealth, HRSA has been established to serve as a leader in telehealth; to become the focal point for HRSA's telehealth activities; and to act as a catalyst for the wider adoption of advanced technologies in the provision of health care services and education.
